MARKET OUTLOOK

Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) has maintained the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) at 3.00% for the ninth consecutive Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) meeting, held on 6 November 2024. BNM believes that the current monetary policy is adequately accommodative to support domestic economy, particularly given the moderation in domestic inflation.

Headline inflation eased slightly to +1.8% YoY in November 2024 (October 2024: +1.9% YoY; 11M 2024: +1.8% YoY), while core inflation remained at +1.8% YoY (October 2024: +1.8% YoY). We maintain the headline inflation estimate for 2024 at +1.9% and the forecast for 2025 at +3.0%, factoring in the impact of Budget 2025 measures, such as expected rationalization of the RON95 petrol subsidy and higher labor costs (including the minimum wage hike, foreign workers' multi-tier levies, and mandatory EPF contributions for non-citizen employee).

In November 2024, Industrial Production picked up (+3.6% YoY; October 2024: +2.0% YoY). However, Distributive Trade slowed (+3.9% YoY; October 2024: +5.1% YoY), and Crude Palm Oil output fell further (-9.4% YoY; October 2024: -7.2% YoY). We estimate GDP growth at +4.3% YoY in November 2024 (October 2024 estimate: +3.8% YoY) and +4.0% YoY for October-November 2024. Our monthly GDP estimates are typically -1.0ppt lower than actual GDP. Even adjusted for this, the signal indicates that GDP growth eased in 4Q 2024 (3Q 2024: +5.3% YoY).

The unemployment rate remained steady at 3.2% in November 2024 (October 2024: 3.2%). We expect the unemployment rate to average 3.3% in 2024 and 3.2% in 2025 (11M 2024: 3.3%; 2023: 3.4%). This state of "full employment" is accompanied by firmer income growth, driven by Phase 1 of the civil service pay increase on December 1, 2024, and the monthly minimum wage hike to MYR 1,700 (from MYR 1,500) on February 1, 2025, which is positive for consumer spending. We expect real private consumption to grow at a faster pace of +5.8% in 2025 (2024 estimate: +5.2%).

With expectation of moderated inflation, a resilient domestic economy along with stable labor market, the current monetary policy is accommodative enough and we maintain our view for OPR to remain unchanged at 3.00% for 2025.
