Key Risks

5. What are the key risks associated with this Fund?

Manager's Risk

This risk refers to the day-to-day management of the Fund by the Manager which will impact the performance of the Fund. For example, investment decisions undertaken by the Manager, as a result of an incorrect view of the market or any non-compliance with internal policies, investment mandate, the deed, relevant law or guidelines due to factors such as human error or weaknesses in operational process and systems, may adversely affect the performance of the Fund.

Market Risk

Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors, which will result in a decline in the Fund's NAV.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk refers to the ease of liquidating an asset depending on the asset's volume traded in the market. If the Fund holds assets that are illiquid, or are difficult to dispose of, the value of the Fund and investments of the unit holders will be negatively affected when it has to sell such assets at unfavourable prices.

Loan or Financing Risk

This risk occurs when investors take a loan/ financing to finance their investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed/ financed money includes investors being unable to service the loan repayments/ financing payments. In the event units are used as collateral, an investor may be required to top-up the investors' existing instalment if the prices of units fall below a certain level due to market conditions. Failing which, the units may be sold at a lower NAV per unit as compared to the NAV per unit at the point of purchase, towards settling the loan/ financing.

Please note that loan/ financing is discouraged.

Suspension/Deferment of Redemption Risk

The Manager may, in consultation with the Trustee and having considered the interests of investors, suspend the dealings in units of the Fund due to exceptional circumstances such as when the market value or fair value of a material portion of the Fund's assets cannot be determined. No application will be dealt with when suspension of dealing in units are triggered and this will limit the unit holder's right to freely redeem their units in the Fund.

For the purpose of liquidity risk management, the Fund may defer redemption to the next business day if the total net redemption received is more than 10% of the NAV of the Fund on a particular business day. When such redemption limit is triggered, it may jeopardise the Fund's ability to meet unit holders' redemption request and may lead to a delay in repayment of redemption proceeds to investors. Unit holders who are impacted by deferment of redemption are subject to the risks inherent to the Fund which unit holders invested in until the redemption request is processed.

Country Risk

Investments of the Fund may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which the Fund invests in. For example, the deteriorating economic condition of such countries may adversely affect the value of the investments undertaken by the Fund. This in turn may cause the NAV of the Fund or prices of units to fall.

Currency Risk

As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Investors should be aware that if the currencies in which the investments are denominated depreciate against the base currency, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund in the base currency and vice versa. Investors should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment.

Risk Considerations for Investing in Derivatives

The Fund Manager may use derivatives such as forwards, futures and options to hedge against certain risks such as adverse movements in currency exchange rates or interest rate. This involves special risks, including but not limited to the risk of loss from default by the counterparty, typically as a consequence of insolvency or failed settlement.

The Fund Manager will only enter into hedging transactions where the counterparty is a financial institution with a minimum long-term credit rating of investment grade (including gradation and subcategories) rated by any domestic or global rating agency. In the event where the counterparty's or issuer's rating falls below the minimum required or it ceases to be rated, the Fund Manager will liquidate its position within 6 months or sooner, unless the Trustee considers it to be in the best interest of investors to do otherwise.

To mitigate these risks, all investments in financial derivatives will be closely monitored or efforts will be taken to unwind such positions if there is material adverse change to the counterparty or issuer.

Risks Associated with Investment in REITs

Property Taxes Risk: Any increase in property taxes law or requirement could have an adverse impact to income gained from sales of any property. This risk is mitigated by diversifying the portfolio across various property sub-segments and is lessened further by investments in multiple countries to mitigate concentration in any single market or economy.

Rental Risk: Any material changes in the regulatory limits on rent could have an adverse impact on the rental income which may reduce dividend payout. This risk is mitigated by investing in a wide range of property sub-segments across different countries in the permissible region of investments. A close monitoring of rental rates via channel checks by the Manager is regularly required to ensure timely portfolio decision-making.

REIT Management Risk: REIT's performance depends, in part, upon the continued service and performance of REIT's manager. For example, the key personnel of REIT's manager may leave the employment and affect results in the duties which such personnel are responsible for. The loss of key personnel, or the inability of the relevant businesses REIT's manager to retain or replace qualified employees, could have an adverse effect on its operating results, affect its ability to generate cash and make distributions to the REIT's investors. The REIT's performance will have an impact on the investments of the Fund.
